

Confident discussions with Jesus

By: Teneisha Johnson

When I am lonely and need a friend
Jesus takes my hand and guides me in

To a place of such tranquility
In his presence I bow in humility

I have never wanted his presence more
Than in these times when I'm so lonely and insecure

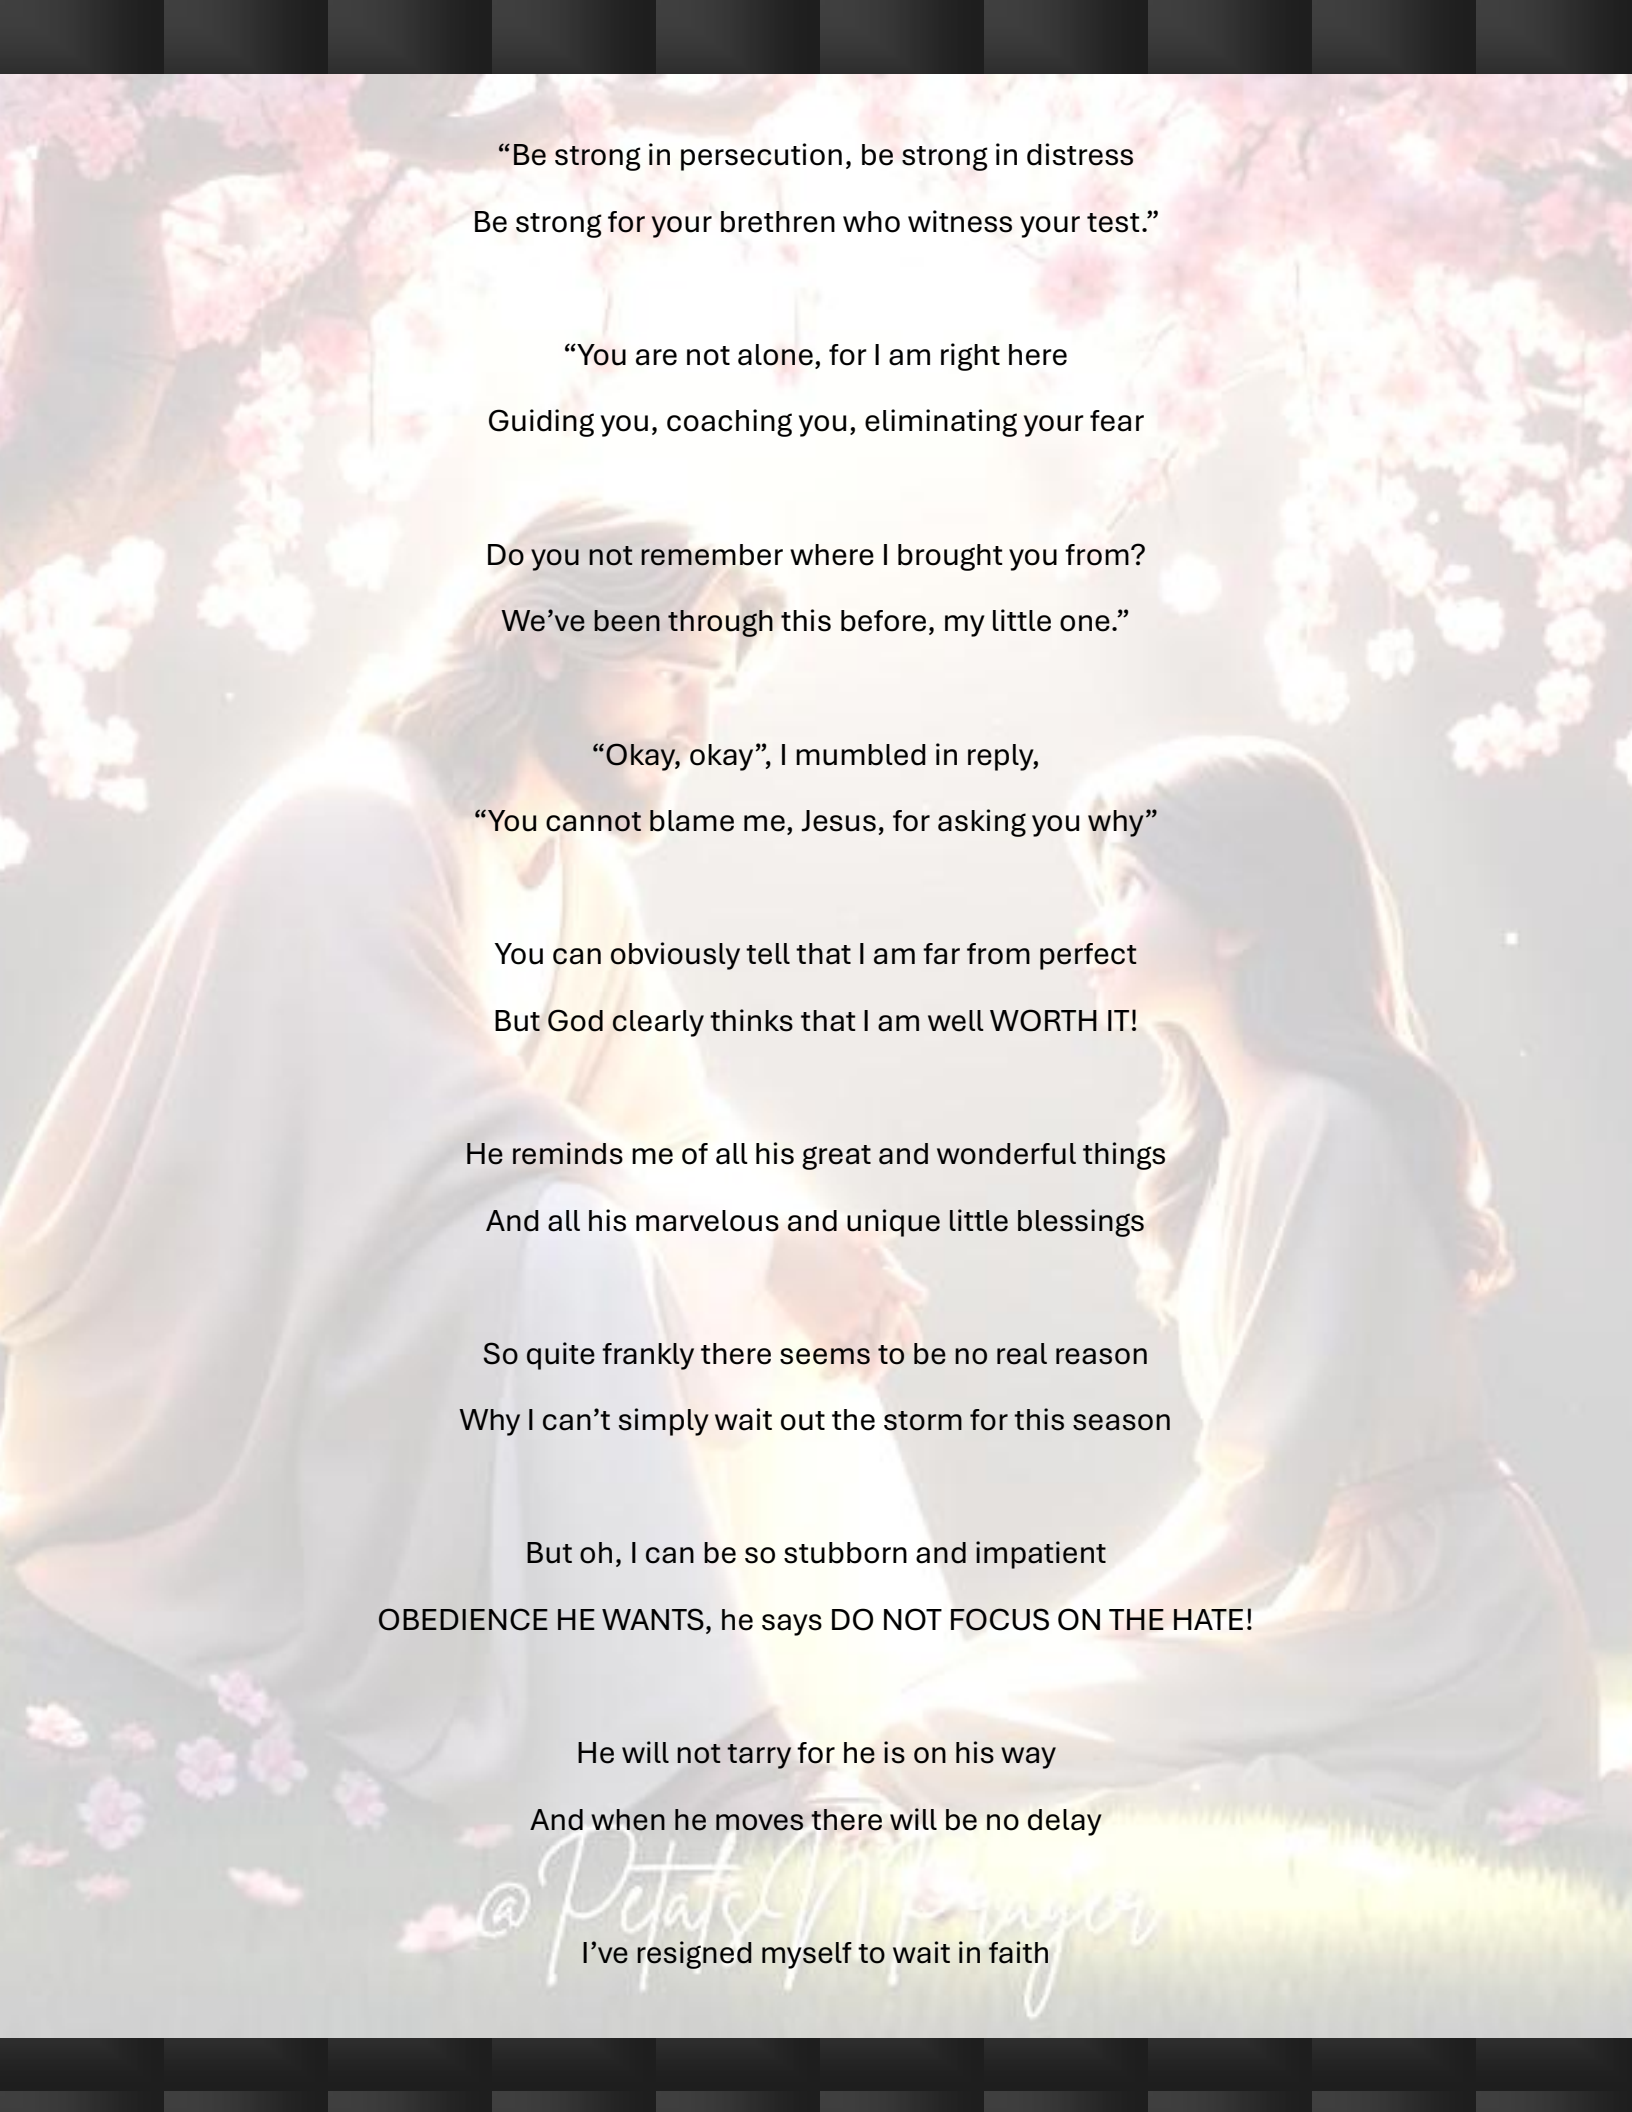

All my plans and dreams seem unfulfilled
He gently reminds me he loves me still

He says, "Do not fear my gentle one
My fight for you has just begun"

I remind him that I am so afraid
He whispers that I should simply call his name

Sometimes I cry and ask how long?
He constantly reminds me to remain steadfast and strong

@Petals & Prayer

“Be strong in persecution, be strong in distress
Be strong for your brethren who witness your test.”

“You are not alone, for I am right here
Guiding you, coaching you, eliminating your fear

Do you not remember where I brought you from?
We’ve been through this before, my little one.”

“Okay, okay”, I mumbled in reply,
“You cannot blame me, Jesus, for asking you why”

You can obviously tell that I am far from perfect
But God clearly thinks that I am well WORTH IT!

He reminds me of all his great and wonderful things
And all his marvelous and unique little blessings

So quite frankly there seems to be no real reason
Why I can’t simply wait out the storm for this season

But oh, I can be so stubborn and impatient
OBEDIENCE HE WANTS, he says DO NOT FOCUS ON THE HATE!

He will not tarry for he is on his way
And when he moves there will be no delay

@PetateMPrayer
I’ve resigned myself to wait in faith

To work with him and willingly participate

He is working on me and perhaps on you

I'll see you at the end when we all get through. Amen.
