

Thy Kingdom Come

By: Teneisha Johnson

Thy Kingdom come

Which Kingdom is that?

Some of you might question and state several facts

We act as if we are so confused,

Sometimes, never knowing which way to choose

It cannot be so hard to figure out

God's love is for us is without a doubt

He gently soothes us when we cry

And wins us with heavenly lullabies

The Kingdom will then manifest

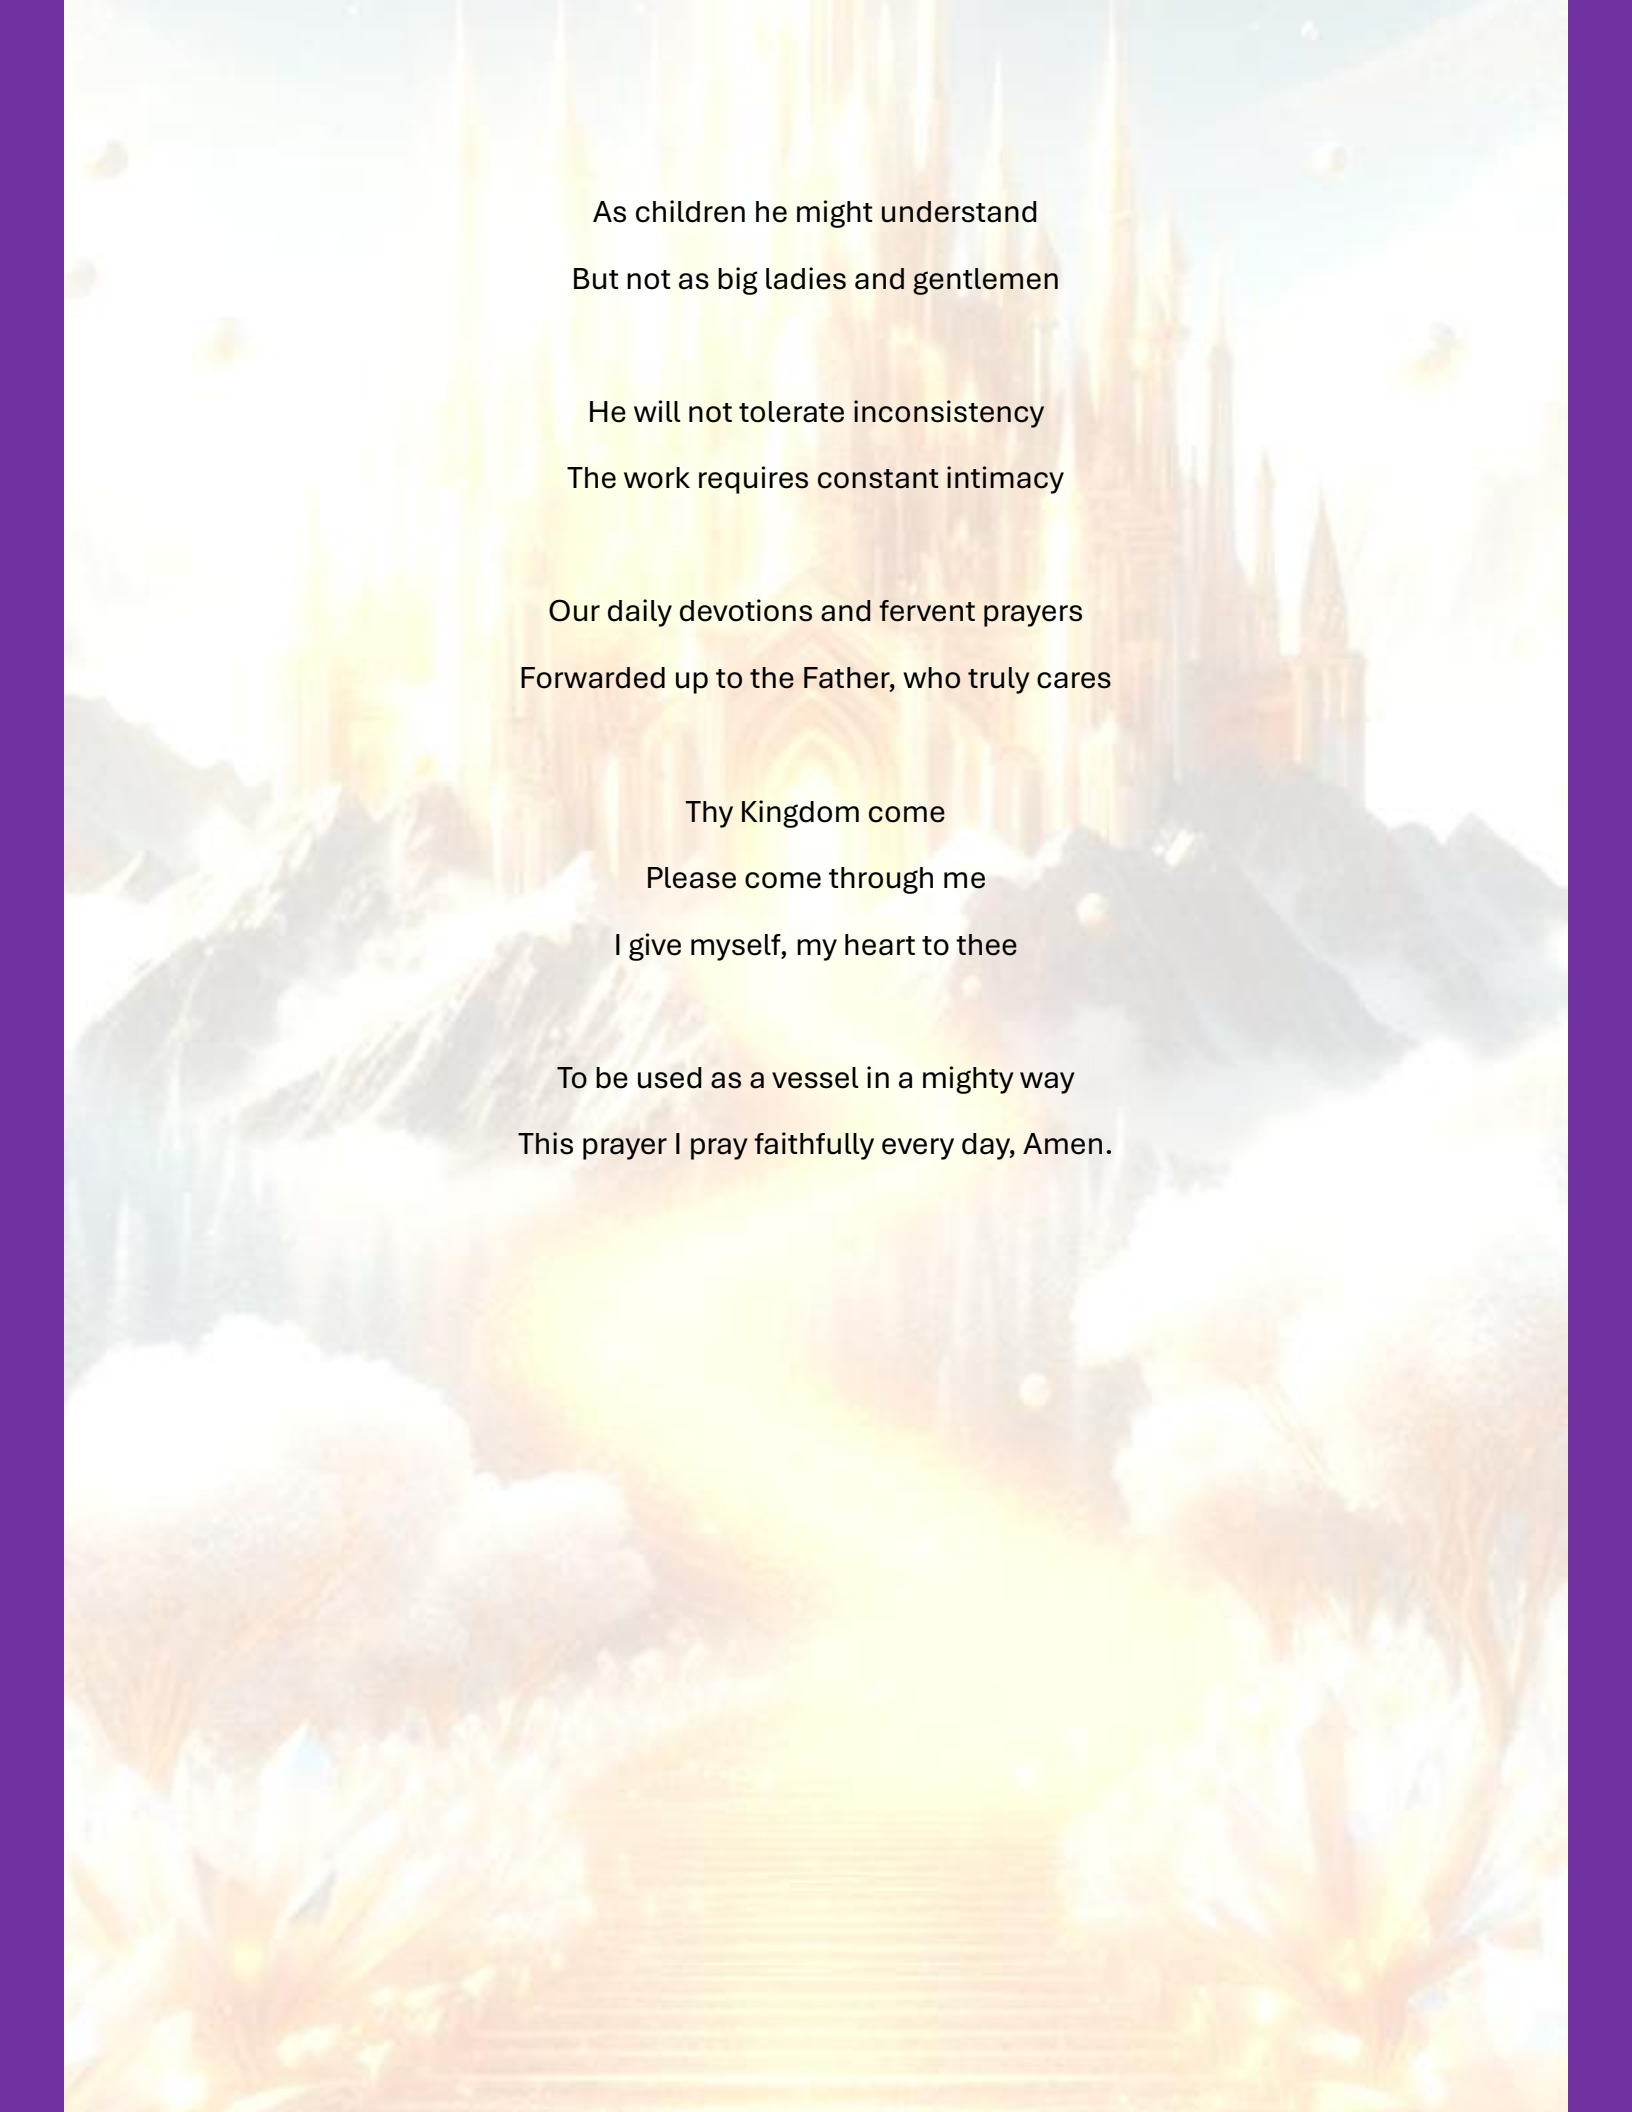

In those of us he has freely blessed

Those who chose to follow him and learn his ways

Witnessing and worshipping with consistent praise

He said he needs his will to be done

We cannot be immature for the battle to be won

As children he might understand
But not as big ladies and gentlemen

He will not tolerate inconsistency
The work requires constant intimacy

Our daily devotions and fervent prayers
Forwarded up to the Father, who truly cares

Thy Kingdom come
Please come through me
I give myself, my heart to thee

To be used as a vessel in a mighty way
This prayer I pray faithfully every day, Amen.
