

God's Champion

Written By: Teneisha Johnson

It's no mystery,
That throughout history,
The kingdom of God has been forcefully advancing

We say we've got the victory,
But our lives paint a different story,
Of defeat and days of misgivings

Not even the warriors of old,
Could fight with skills like the youth today, who are more bold,
Who should be equipped for the battle to come

I say! Open the gates. Ring the bell,
Round one, the Devil is going straight to hell!

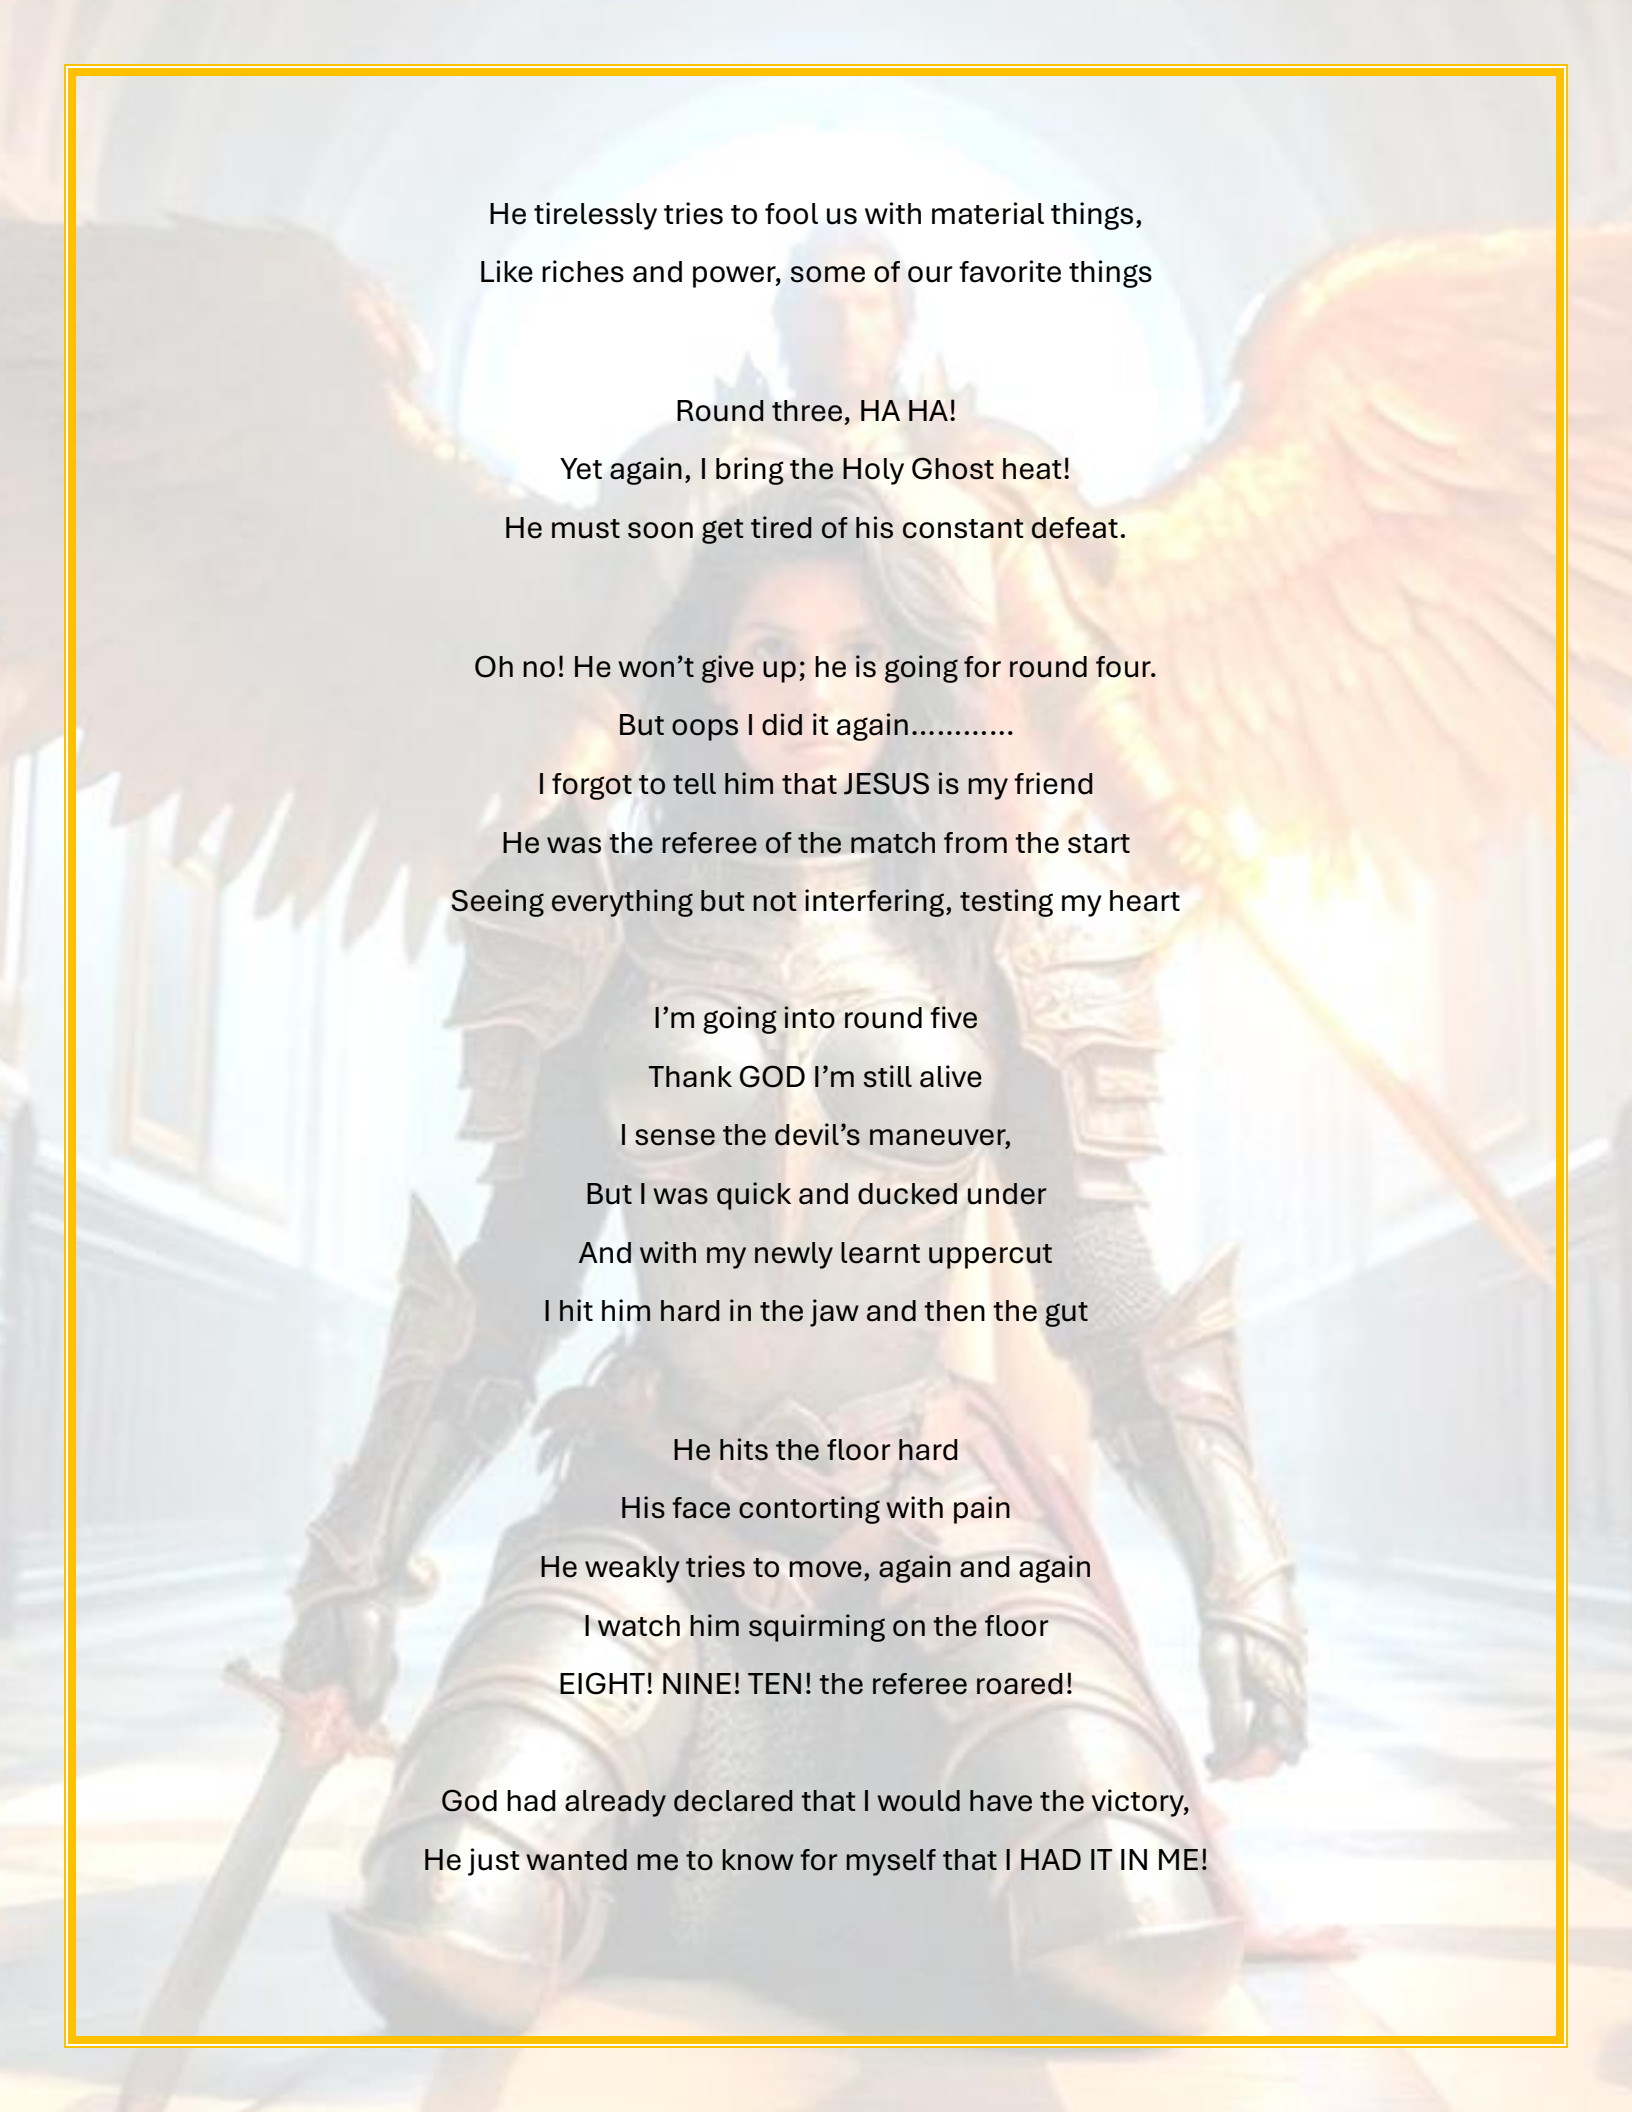

He knows he will be defeated,
That's why he schemes and has cheated some of us from eternal life with Christ
What a shame, what a mess, what a terrible price

Round two, he says he is coming for you

But I reiterate

We've got the victory

Where there is love, there cannot be hate

He tirelessly tries to fool us with material things,
Like riches and power, some of our favorite things

Round three, HA HA!

Yet again, I bring the Holy Ghost heat!
He must soon get tired of his constant defeat.

Oh no! He won't give up; he is going for round four.

But oops I did it again.....

I forgot to tell him that JESUS is my friend
He was the referee of the match from the start
Seeing everything but not interfering, testing my heart

I'm going into round five
Thank GOD I'm still alive
I sense the devil's maneuver,
But I was quick and ducked under
And with my newly learnt uppercut
I hit him hard in the jaw and then the gut

He hits the floor hard
His face contorting with pain
He weakly tries to move, again and again
I watch him squirming on the floor
EIGHT! NINE! TEN! the referee roared!

God had already declared that I would have the victory,
He just wanted me to know for myself that I HAD IT IN ME!
