

Your Five Senses

By: Teneisha Johnson

You see out of your eyes

God sees within your soul

The Spirit cannot respond to hearts stagnant and cold

You hear out of your ears

God speaks within your heart

He's looking for his faithful vessels

For his kingdom work to start

You taste what's in your mouth

It vocalizes the word

Your testimony is strong and true

And will melt hearts when heard

You smell scents from your nose

God's sweet perfume is near

The sensitivity of the spirit

Responds to love and not fear

You touch using your hands
God's power you use to heal
Connecting with each other's faith
His miracles are now revealed

So, taste, touch, smell, hear, and see

That the spirit of the Lord is true
The spirit has a clear location
He lives inside of YOU!
